STAT

Dear

It was very thoughtful (though unnecessary) of you to send me a note regarding your CT experience. On the one hand I was pleased to have the information because I am most interested in how our CT prospects are handled. By the same token, there was no need on your part to worry about betrayal of my trust. You see, I have had my own problems with the CT program dating back some 25 years, so I well appreciate your frustration. But I think your fix is tremendous -- namely getting married and going overseas.

STAT

I wish you and the very best of luck and look forward to your continued service to our Agency.

With very best wishes for the New Year and your "new assignment."

Regards,

John N. McMahon
